Agfa partners with Artwork Systems Nordic as Anapurna distributor in the Nordic region

Mortsel, Belgium – Agfa and Artwork Systems Nordic have entered a non-exclusive authorized reseller agreement to sell the Anapurna inkjet portfolio in Denmark, Sweden and Norway.

Artwork Systems Nordic, a leading graphic arts solutions distributor, will now offer Agfa's entire range of Anapurna wide-format inkjet printers and related inks to print service providers across the Nordic region.

This partnership builds on a longstanding history of collaboration between the two companies, which have previously collaborated on successful displays and events throughout Scandinavia.

Paw Meng Mortensen, Director at Artwork Systems Nordic said: "We are really excited about this new partnership with Agfa. This move to add the Anapurna brand to our portfolio is a natural expansion of our product range, as it provides a choice of wide-format options and fills a gap in our current offering."

Artwork Systems Nordic brings almost 30 years of expertise in optimization and automation solutions for the graphic arts industry, providing software and hardware that helps businesses streamline processes and enhance profitability. The company's deep understanding of the Nordic market will further strengthen Agfa's reach and support for customers in the region.

Nils-Arne Sletten, Sales Manager at Agfa, said: "We've worked with Artwork Systems Nordic for several years now and so when it came to appointing an additional distributor for the Anapurna range in the Nordic region, we knew they would be the perfect fit. They have a strong established presence in this market with a reputation for excellence, and this collaboration will ensure their customers have greater access to our innovative solutions. We look forward to working with Artwork Systems Nordic to bring even more value and excellence to the Nordic sign and display sector."
